

DigRightIn Landscape Design Innovations Mean Eco-Friendly Solution

Serving Chicago's western suburbs, DigRightIn provides landscape design services and lawn maintenance utilizing earth-friendly practices and materials.

WESTCHESTER, USA, November 12, 2015

/EINPresswire.com/ -- For nearly twenty years, DigRightIn

Landscaping has been providing eco-friendly landscaping services in the western suburbs of Chicagoland. From the beginning, DigRightIn has been committed to caring for the environment, and today it specializes in sustainable lawn care, landscape design, landscape installation, vegetable gardening and yard drainage solutions.

"I've blended my stormwater management, ecosystem restoration and environmental advocacy experiences into one sustainable landscaping company," said Jeff Swano, company owner and President.

In 2007, the company transitioned to all-organic lawn care to provide residents with a chemical-free alternative for healthier lawns and the environment. "We brew our own compost tea at our facility in Westchester using sustainable, organic ingredients," Swano said. "In this way, we feed the soil to feed the turfgrass." In contrast, chemical fertilizers provide a temporary source of limited nutrients, wash off the land polluting water bodies, and their production has a large carbon footprint.

Over the years, DigRightIn has developed several other niche services. They are one of the area's premier yard drainage solution companies. They have a carpentry division that specializes in custom designed and installed fences, decks and pergolas. The design-install division provides sustainable landscape design; yard makeovers; patios, walkways, and driveways; native landscaping and vegetable gardening. "Because of this breadth of services offered and our seasoned staff of professionals, DigRightIn ensures each customer receives innovative and creative landscape designs with high-quality installation," Swano said.

Located in Westchester, Illinois, DigRightIn primarily serves the western suburbs of Chicago, including La Grange, La Grange Park, Western Springs, Elmhurst, Oak Park, River Forest, Riverside, Brookfield, Hinsdale and Downers Grove.
