

DSYNC Does it Again, Finalist in Prestigious Tech Award

DSYNC moves forward with system integration tech to change retail

SYDNEY, NEW SOUTH WALES, AUSTRALIA, November 20, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DSYNC Does it Again, Finalist in Prestigious Tech Award

This puts DSYNC alongside companies like Freelancer.com who were named in 2010 for this prestigious technology award. Anthill is one of Australia's largest communities for entrepreneurs, innovators and the go to media outlet for savvy technology business builders. Anthill specializes in commercialization, start-up and entrepreneurship and has a proven track record of identifying early technology and innovation disruption.

“The Anthill Cool Company Awards were launched in 2006 as a way for Anthill to acknowledge and celebrate organizations that are doing things differently to bring about positive change” explains Tuckerman “Cool Companies stay one step ahead of the rest. They breed leaders who are rule-makers and rule-breakers.”

After creating a marketplace disturbance that caused waves within the system integration sector, DSYNC was also selected by the American National Retailers Federation (NRF) as one of the top 20 game-changing technologies for American retailers in 2016. DSYNC's management have a track record of creating hyper-growth technology companies and has been listed as a company to watch, largely as the system integration market is forecast to grow to $331.76 billion in 2018 at a CAGR of 11.6, making DSYNC a perfect disruptor to watch as it enters the USA market.

Co-founder of DSYNC Simon Church commented on the finalist achievement: “James Tuckerman and Gerald Ainomugisha from Anthill are well known for their ability to identify emerging technology companies including recognizing Freelancer.com back in 2010. DSYNC are looking forward to following in Freelancers footsteps.”

Anthill are looking for innovative, highly commercial companies that are changing the world, one idea at a time. DSYNC is proud to claim this finalist badge with innovation government support, industry recognition and soon to be released announcement of an over-subscribed seed funding with their execution plan well and truly in place.

We asked what it is about DSYNC that makes it so special?

“DSYNC has created a user friendly wizard that joins any business system together without programming knowledge. As long as systems are interactive DSYNC can make the data flow. DSYNC has partnered with world class technology firms such as IBM, Temando, Wolf Interactive, Webqem and more to provide an affordable solution to system integration.”

So, what will be the next step is for DSYNC? “We are building our partner list and welcome web developer and website agencies to help our product team expand into all international markets. We have a white labelled platform for developers to connect clients systems together.”

“It is an incredibly exciting time for us right now and are thrilled to be chosen as an Anthill finalist... Watch this space.”
