

Department of Land Transfer Information Inc. (DLTI) Announces Record Sales in the 3rd Quarter 2015

The Department of Land Transfer Information today announced record mine sales and mining claim location services in the three months ended September 30, 2015.

SAN CLEMENTE, CA, USA, December 15, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Department of Land Transfer Information, Inc. ("DLTI" or "the Company"), the North American leader in locating and restoring historic mining claims in the United States and Alaska, today announced record mine sales and mining claim location services in the three months ended September 30, 2015.

New services and products like Claim Locating, Corner Staking, Marking and Surveying, Claim Name Change Services, Paperwork Filing, Fire and X-ray fluorescence (XRF) Assay Work and Displays to showcase your mining claim have also contributed to the record sales results recorded in the 3rd quarter of this year.

"The Company's investment in claim improvements and customer satisfaction seems to be paying off," said Steven Cyros, President and Chief Executive Officer of DLTI. "Our increased service features and reporting, such as field extensive XRF readings and enhanced satellite imagery, have increased the value of DLTI for its customers, and we are seeing the benefits," continued Mr. Cyros.

The Company's mining claim shipments in the quarter ended September 30, 2015, exceeded total shipments in any quarter during the previous ten years. Increased sales were due to technology advancements, providing added features and services to customers, large shipments to a commercial customer and an increased sales focus in new and emerging states and markets.

Sales in the 4th quarter continue to grow at a record pace as the Company is continuing to focus its sales efforts on larger revenue generating opportunities and new geographical areas.

About DLTI

Since it was founded in 1998, DLTI, which is a privately held Wyoming Corporation, has played an instrumental role in the western United States' mining industry by helping to increase exploration and broaden the range of natural resources under development. An important part of DLTI's work involves teaming up with private and commercial exploration companies and mining interest nationwide. DLTI has built up a diversified portfolio of properties in 11 states, including Alaska, making it possible to prospect for a wide array of metals and minerals while mitigating the uncertainty of operating in a cyclical industry.

Our field-exploration model enables us to maximize return on our assets while minimizing risks by working on the ground directly with our clients in many cases. Additionally, DLTI has successfully promoted leading-edge research into advanced methods, equipment and technologies used to boost the effectiveness of exploration activities and the chances of making new discoveries.

DLTI has been a significant contributor in the development of numerous deposits and successful private and commercial operations in the United States since it was created. More than 4,000 valuable and often historic claims have been discovered, located and marketed to the general public since the Company's inception, with the value-added benefit of preserving an important piece of our Country's history – the mining legacy that built the west and provided economic benefits for countless individuals and entities.

DLTI's headquarters are located in San Clemente, California, USA. For additional information on DLTI or its products and services, please visit the Company's website at www.LandTransfer.us.com.
