

Israeli Art Market's Big Exhibition

The Big Exhibition has recently begun on the 15th December 2015, and will run until 15th February 2016, with various quality art available for purchasing.

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL, ISRAEL, December 22, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dafna Navarro, CEO and Founder Lens Magazine and Art Market Magazine, first founded the Israeli Art Market four years ago and in doing so created the first and only online gallery dedicated to solely to the exhibition and sale Israeli Art. Today, she is very excited to announce a massive online exhibition featuring a wide variety of contemporary, original, and traditional Judaica artworks.

With over a 100 Artworks for sale, all of which have been meticulously curated by Dafna herself, dozens of Israel's finest and up and coming artists finally have a location to help showcase all of their breathtaking work of art. All exhibitions are available on a temporary basis, making them all unique works of art that are truly one-of-a-kind.

Works available on Israeli Art Market include exhibits of original art, Judaica Art, lithographs and quality fine art prints for sale. A special promotion is also running with the Big Exhibition, where all purchases come with free shipping worldwide! Purchases are 100% safe and secure.

Some of the most renowned names in all of Israeli art can be found here, including Yosl Bergner, Kadishman and Milkin. Beyond that, new emerging talents can be found too, with the chance to snap up early work from those that can only grow in name and recognition.

The art community within Israel is that of a thriving and constantly growing one, already home to many prominent artists, not to mention the countless emerging young talents looking to establish themselves.

These artists never truly had a platform to exhibit their work on a global scale, with it very much being kept within Israel art community and rarely reaching a broader, more international audience. That has all changed thanks to Israeli Art Market.

Again, Israeli Art Market is the first ever online exhibition dedicated to Israeli art that is available to a global audience, and to date remains one of the sole providers of contemporary fine art, original Art and Judaica for sell. It is the biggest online gallery in Israel.

Israeli Art Market is part of a larger company that also features two very well received and popular art magazines – Art Market Magazine and Israeli Lens Magazine. These newly established magazines have covered the rising Israeli art community and made it available to art enthusiasts around the world, helping to further cement Israel's place as one of the unheralded stars of the global art scene. There is a close partnership with the magazine publications and the Israeli Art Market gallery, with each magazine covering some of the best and brightest names in both Israeli art and photography. Concepts are explored in each issue, with the artists given an outlet to showcase their work, and tell the stories behind them.

Many artists that have featured in these magazines have work available in the Big Exhibition, allowing international and domestic readers the chance to purchase the work of these artists for the first time.

For Israel's art community to grow in size and reputation, the artists themselves need an outlet to showcase their work, as well as to earn an income doing what they love to do. This makes Israel Art Market immensely proud to be at the forefront of this, helping both established and new talents make the most out of their professions and paint a very bright future for Israelis artists.

The Big Exhibition can also be found on the Israeli version of the website, which is the native Hebrew version of the English website. Sell My Art. These two websites combined can reach both a domestic and international audience, creating the potential for the largest exposure many of these artists have ever had.

Art Market Magazine and Lens Magazine are available on many digital platforms, including Magzter, Pocketmags, Google Play and the App Newsstand. Magzter is one of the leading digital newsstands in the world today, with a global reach of millions, which is precisely the readership and audience that both publications are geared towards, making them an ideal partner for distribution.
