

Agenda released for Smart Water Systems 2016

SMi is thrilled to announce that a brochure is now available for the 5th annual Smart Water Systems conference taking place on 25-26 April 2016 in London, UK.

LONDON, ENGLAND, UNITED KINGDOM, January 18, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SMi's 5th annual Smart Water Systems conference will provide a timely platform to discover how water companies are benefiting from smart water metering technology, with the short and long-term gains discussed. The two-day programme will feature an array of case studies and project updates which will detail the results and progress made from some of the largest UK and European smart water system roll-outs.

Furthermore, special focus will be provided on how we can locate and extract meaningful information from the big data generated and first-hand accounts will be shared on how this information can be used to produce significant environmental, social and economic advantage.

We have worked closely with a leading panel of experts from Thames Water, Southern Water, Irish Water, United Utilities, Dwr Cymru Welsh Water, Anglian Water to name but a few, to create an agenda that will provide unique insight into topics such as big data utilisation and handling, stakeholder engagement, innovation plus much more.

Speaker Panel includes:

- Danny Leamon, Head of Metering, Thames Water
- Penny Hodge, Head of Policy and Stakeholder Engagement, Southern Water
- Marcello Bondesan, Head of Energy Engineering Department, Operations, HERA
- Mike Bishop, Head of Operational Control and Development, Dwr Cymru Welsh Water
- Andrew Smith, Regional Optimisation Manager, Anglian Water
- Neil Harper, Metering Strategy Manager, United Utilities
- Katy Walker, Water Network, Leakage and Metering Strategy Manager, Yorkshire Water
