

EzyFit Releases New Adjustable Knee Brace

EzyFit recently released the EzyFit Knee Brace, a flexible knee support product.

SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, USA, February 4, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Manufactured with non-slip silicone strips, open patella and strong Velcro enclosures designed to provide the maximum level of support and comfort to the user. It is now available on Amazon.com for purchase.

As a growing brand in the exercise support niche, EzyFit is committed to producing quality adjustable neoprene products. The company's newest product, the Adjustable Knee Brace, remains tight and snug to provide long lasting, comfortable support. The Adjustable Knee Brace from EzyFit is designed to fit knees measuring 14 inches to 17 inches around leg at knee cap. It can be worn while playing sports, exercising or just to get general knee pain support. The knee brace features non-slip silicone strips to ensure that it remains firmly and comfortably in place without interfering with the user's movements. Suitable for right or left legs, the product's open patella ensures flexibility and full movement of the joint while exercising. The open patella area also makes it possible to adjust the brace with ease and hold the knee cap in place. Two stabilizers on either side of the knee provide maximum lateral and medial collateral ligament support. The rounded, double stitched edges guarantee its durability. The combination of premium quality stretch neoprene, polyester and nylon makes the knee brace easy to fit and easy to wash and wear. The strong Velcro closures ensure that the knee brace remains in place even during extreme sports, walking or rigorous exercise. The EzyFit knee brace is also thick enough to maintain its shape and produce the heat required to keep the user comfortable throughout the day. It can help the user recover from tendonitis, ACL, meniscus tear, knee surgery and arthritis. The knee brace reduces abnormal side to side and rotational movements that occur in some sports. It stabilizes the knees so that they function normally. For best results, users are advised to apply topical pain relief before wearing the knee brace.

The EzyFit Knee Brace is backed by a 30-day Product Replacement Guarantee! Those who are not satisfied with the product can return it and get a replacement without any questions asked.

About EzyFit
