

Dr. James Dobson Endorses Jeff Judson over Speaker Joe Straus

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, February 16, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. James Dobson, called "the nation's most influential evangelical leader" by Time, has endorsed Jeff Judson for Texas House, District 121.

"Dr. Dobson has always been a hero of mine," said Judson about the endorsement by the best-selling Christian author and the founder of Focus on the Family which was heard on over 7,000 radio stations worldwide by more than 220 million people in 164 countries. "I am truly humbled by Dr. Dobson's endorsement of my candidacy."

Dr. Dobson wrote, "It is my pleasure to be among the many solid conservatives who are supporting Jeff Judson's candidacy for Texas House District 121. At this pivotal moment in our country, we must elect faith-filled, courageous men and women who are proven leaders and who will fight to reverse the trends that are eroding our culture. Jeff Judson is one such leader who is up to the task and prepared for such a time as this.

"For years, I have joined millions of people across America in praying that God would raise up leaders to restore this great nation. I am excited that Jeff Judson answered that call and has stepped up to offer his services to the people of Texas House District 121.

"As a private individual, I am honored to endorse Jeff Judson, and pray that his election will be a start of a new generation of leaders who will return this nation to the constitutional principles upon which it was founded," wrote James C. Dobson, Ph.D.

"Dr. Dobson is the most revered defender in America of traditional marriage between one man and one woman," said Judson. "I join him in rejecting the Supreme Court's attempt to re-define marriage to include two men or two women. Byron Cook, one of the original Straus Republicans and chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, endorsed a bill that would allow homosexual partners to both be listed as the adoptive parents of a child on Texas birth certificates. This bill reveals how extreme Straus is."
