Issue #22 of Art Market Magazine proves to be no different, as it provides some of the most comprehensive and insightful coverage of The European Fine Art Fair you likely to find. Beyond this you find the usual fantastic and high quality content found throughout the magazine, with new contributors adding their thoughts and feelings regarding their favourite artists, works and much more.

Returning contributors also offer some extensive coverage of the art world, including blogs, interviews, and profiles of artist both established and emerging, along with in-depth coverage of all the biggest art news in the world, auction results and more.

Articles and Interviews for TEFAR

The European Fine Art fair is one of the biggest annual art and antique fairs not only in Europe, but the entire world. Held in Maastricht, Netherlands, tens of thousands of art aficionados, dealers, and artists will converge upon the fair during its ten day run that begins 11th March.

Some of the most exquisite pieces of art and antiques will be on full display, including paintings, sculptures, antiquities, and works on paper. These exhibits span time periods that collectively cover thousands of years of art, with billions of dollars' worth of pieces on display at the fair.

Art Market Magazine provides a selection of insightful articles and interviews regarding the TEFAR, with fantastic coverage provided by the talented Miguel Bermudez. For those looking to get the preview coverage of the fair, look no further than the latest issue of Art Market magazine.
