A Chicago, IL native, John Mautner is a serial entrepreneur and has been immersed in business growth strategies since the early age of 26. His strategies and principles led him to start five multi-million dollar companies over the past 25 years.

Recognized by Inc. Magazine, Mautner was awarded as an Inc. 500 winner and one of America's 500 fastest growing companies (this was the first business he started). Starting with $10,000 and no experience, he grew the company from one location selling fresh hot-roasted cinnamon-glazed almonds on a small nut cart to over 100 locations in the biggest theme parks, professional sports stadiums, arenas and shopping malls across the globe.

In an effort to help the countless struggling companies in the US grow so they achieve their dreams, keep and create good paying jobs, and help stimulate the economy, John founded the Cycle-of-Success Institute, or COSi, in 2001. It's the first and only business coaching program in the nation that coaches and trains presidents and managers of small to mid-sized companies through an award winning 12 step program that rapidly enhances business performance and growth. COSi grows businesses that grow communities. For more information on John Mautner or Cycle-Of-Success Institute - COSi, visit www.JohnMautner.com
