

Iran Petroleum Congress Launched

The Iran International Petroleum Congress (IIPC) will take place on the 19 – 21 September 2016 in Tehran.

TEHRAN, IRAN, March 15, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Iran Petroleum Congress is the annual platform from which to share the latest updates and insight into Iran's petroleum markets and build networks with all industry stakeholders with an interest in Iran.

Building on the successful launch of the Iran Petroleum Contracts at the Tehran Summit last November, attended by more than 1500 delegates from 45 countries, the 2016 Iran Petroleum Congress will deliver updates on current commercial projects and insight into the investment opportunities presented by Iran's upstream and downstream sectors.

The organising committee is working closely with members of key associations in Iran to deliver the three-day conference programme including:

- The Association of Petroleum Industry Engineering and Construction Companies (APEC)
- Society of Iranian Petroleum Industry Equipment Manufacturers (SIPIEM)
- Iran Industrial Equipment Manufacturers Association (SATSA)
- Iranian Oil, Gas and Petrochemical Products Exporters' Union (OPEX)

The agenda includes focused workshops exploring the regulatory and fiscal frameworks supporting partnership, growth and development in Iran's petroleum industry. Throughout the Iran Petroleum Congress, international and domestic exhibitors will benefit from enhanced networking time to forge new partnerships and relationships with clients and key decision makers.

To find out more about the important opportunities presented by Iran's petroleum sector please contact the Iran Petroleum Congress team on +44 1737 784950
