PolyPortables, LLC and IRM (Innovative Rotational Molding) are teaming up to bring better portable sanitation services to West Coast clients.

DAHLONEGA, GEORGIA, USA, March 31, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With an emphasis on quality, customer service, and 'Lean' principles, IRM makes a perfect fit for PolyPortables, LLC.

IRM of Madera, California was founded in 2007 to fill the markets' need for custom plastic parts, with intricate details, precise dimensions and impeccable finishing. Owner Dan Humphries has over 35 years of experience in the rotational molding industry, making IRM a valued asset to our west coast customer base.

IRM's 34,000 square foot facility houses the largest "Rock and Roll" rotational molding machine in the U.S. and other smaller machines which are capable of supporting the growing demand for PolyPortables' products on the west coast. The facility sits on over 4 acres of land, and provides secure, well-organized storage of PolyPortables' assembled toilets. All California orders for PolyPortables' assembled toilets and hand wash stations will ship from IRM's facility. We are pleased that this partnership will create 15 new jobs in the local community!

This new facility will produce and house PolyPortables' West Coast products.

IRM's fully trained staff is ready for production.

To further the ease of business for our west coast customers, PolyPortables has also opened a new office in Visalia, California. The Visalia location will house our sales staff and also maintain an inventory of replacement parts and deodorizer products for customer pick-up or quick shipment to customers in the region. With the opening of this location, we have ceased all operations at our former Porterville location.
