

Canadian Tech Firm Continues Rapid Expansion Across Canada

Istuary Innovation Group is continuing its rapid growth across Canada with the launch of offices in Waterloo and Ottawa this year.

TORONTO, ON, CANADA, April 4, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TORONTO, April 4, 2016 – Istuary Innovation Group, a Canadian innovation company that connects talent, technology, capital and resources to launch business into fast-growing markets, is continuing its rapid growth across Canada with the launch of offices in Waterloo and Ottawa. Starting with a series of recruitment events this week that will take place in Toronto, Waterloo and Ottawa, Ontario (April 5, 6, and 7 respectively) the company is looking to expand its Canadian presence aggressively by over 25%.

“Our current challenge is in accessing growing markets to find the strongest talent in engineering, data sciences, and business operations,” said Hugh Chow, CEO. “We recognize the depth and quality of the talent pool in Ontario, and we are committing our expansion in the Toronto, Waterloo and Ottawa areas.”

“Ottawa is one of Canada’s key technology and innovation hubs, home to many of the country’s top knowledge-based businesses,” said Bruce Lazenby, President and CEO, Invest Ottawa. “The quality of the talent and companies here in Ottawa is, without doubt, what attracts a company such as Istuary Innovation Group to the city. We look forward to welcoming them to our community and helping them to connect into our amazing innovation ecosystem.”

In addition to adding to its team of technical talent, Istuary will also be using its new locations to grow its Idea Labs, and its “Martian” Program which aim to support innovation with a high-tech barrier such as virtual reality, artificial intelligence and machine learning.
