

CAMERON docudrama wins film award

Houston WorldFest confers honor of Platinum REMI award to director Nadia Dean

CHEROKEE , NORTH CAROLINA, U.S.A., June 1, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- From one of America's largest film festivals, comes an award for the docudrama CAMERON. Author turned filmmaker Nadia Dean wrote and directed the 37-minute film based on her critically acclaimed book A Demand of Blood: The Cherokee War of 1776.

At the start of the American Revolution, CAMERON follows British Indian agent Alexander Cameron on the run from militiamen hell-bent on his capture. Rumors throughout the Carolina backcountry claim Cameron is inciting Cherokee warriors to attack frontier settlers as a way of restoring British rule. Torn between his responsibility as a father, honor to his king, loyalty to the Cherokees, and duty to his conscience, Cameron sinks deeper into turmoil, as he realizes his noble attempts to save innocent women and children have become his undoing.
