

A Demand of Blood: The Cherokee War of 1776

Critically acclaimed book basis for historical docudrama

CHEROKEE , NORTH CAROLINA, U.S.A., April 21, 2016 / EINPresswire.com/ -- America on the eve of the American Revolution sets the backdrop for an exciting story of loyalty, revenge, propaganda and war. Friendships that once felt strong turn to bitter hatred, causing men to do what might once have seemed unthinkable. At the center of vicious rumors and false accusations is a man so devoted to king that in his effort to honor his regent, he instead sets in motion his own undoing.

Author Nadia Dean, director of CAMERON, also wrote and produced the docudrama based on her historical narrative A Demand of Blood: The Cherokee War of 1776. "I wrote the book to satisfy the historical record and to provide a strong historical basis for creative projects such as CAMERON. This history is so fascinating that I've devoted 12 years to telling this story," says Dean.

Film screenings are available throughout the southeast. For more info, visit <http://www.CameronTheFilm.com>

Nadia Dean
Valley River Media
828-564-1117
email us here

This press release can be viewed online at: <http://www.einpresswire.com>

Disclaimer: If you have any questions regarding information in this press release please contact the company listed in the press release. Please do not contact EIN Presswire. We will be unable to assist you with your inquiry. EIN Presswire disclaims any content contained in these releases.

© 1995-2016 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.

