

Utah Research Facility Announces Breakthrough Technologies for Lyme Disease

Where others fail, Functional Alternative Research (FAR) Clinic coordinates a symphony of modalities to combat Lyme disease.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, USA, April 18, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Medical research at Functional Alternative Research, LLC (the "FAR Clinic"), in Bountiful, Utah, is led by prominent Lyme disease physician, Dr. Brett J. Earl, MD. Dr. Earl and his team have developed cutting edge proprietary technologies and modalities during years of extensive research and are now engaged in diagnosing the causes and symptoms as well as determining optimum therapies for Lyme disease patients who come to the FAR Clinic from across the nation.

Several years ago, a team of research scientists began a thorough worldwide investigation into over 120 "treatments" used to "cure" serious illnesses such as Lyme disease. He and his team focused especially on anaerobic microorganisms. Of the 120 procedures researched, they narrowed the playing field of credible modalities down to only six, dismissing the other therapies as placebo, unproven science, and even outright scams. Meanwhile, Dr. Earl was conducting his own separate research into reliable alternative options in combating serious diseases, including Lyme. Each group arrived at basically the same conclusions in their separate and independent findings. The FAR Clinic now employs that research and modalities for the benefit of its patients.

We utilize a precision-crafted sequence of orchestrated events and modalities to produce an exponential increase in the beneficial enzymatic processes throughout your body, down to the cellular level.

The result of Dr. Earl's research is an approach that has not only vastly improved, but has also combined six separate and distinct modalities to confront Lyme disease with amazing results. Dr. Earl is now making this program available in the United States for the first time.

Lyme disease, now considered an infectious/contagious disease, imitates over 300 different diseases including their symptoms and conditions, making it difficult to diagnose and treat. In the just past ten years diagnosed cases of Lyme disease have jumped drastically. In 2014 alone, there were more than 330,000 new cases of Lyme disease reported, and because it is so hard to diagnose, many researchers suspect the number of people infected is probably much higher.

We now know that Lyme disease does not require a tick to cause infection. Many, if not most, people who suffer from Lyme disease fail to receive a proper diagnosis since many conditions of Lyme disease mirror other medical conditions. Unfortunately, when it comes to Lyme disease disinformation, misdiagnosis, and improper treatment, are more common than the uncommon.

THE SIX POTENT MODALITIES THAT MAY OBLITERATE LYME DISEASE

Dr. Earl and his associates at the FAR Clinic created an approach that uses six different modalities together in an orchestrated regimen that is aimed at destroying the Lyme's borrelia burgdorferi (deer tick sporellia), Lyme-like diseases and Lyme co-infections.

The FAR Clinic uses:

1. Whole Body Hyperthermia (raising the body's core temperature with heated water)
2. PEMF (Pulsed Electro-Magnetic Frequencies)
3. Systemic Hyper-Oxygenation (SHO)
4. G-Force (Gravitational inertia induced frequency vibration)
5. Medically Directed Therapeutic Workouts, plus breathing exercises
6. Custom prescribed medical smoothies

Other clinics in the US and Europe use one or two similar modalities to treat Lyme disease, but the FAR Clinic is the first to both enhance and combine all six modalities into one integrated program, improving on each modality synergistically. Even better, all these modalities are non-invasive. The bottom line: all of the modalities researched by Dr. Earl and his associates have been radically improved upon following their research and the FAR Clinic has had unmistakable remarkable results for its patients.

Addressing this issue Dr. Earl said:

COMBINING THE OLD WITH THE NEW

One of the effective FAR Clinic modalities, hyperthermia or heat therapy, is currently used in many places throughout the world to help combat cancer and many other diseases. Even the ancient Greeks, over 3,000 years ago, knew of the health benefits of hyperthermia in treating diseases where hyperthermia was employed commonly in their health spas and hot springs. Hyperthermia is even used by our body's own defenses to fight all type of diseases. This, of course, is known as a fever -- which is factually whole body hyperthermia. Hyperthermia must be supervised in controlled conditions.

The FAR Clinic uses space program technology to help unlock your health and well-being.

Many of the cutting edge frequency wave technologies developed by the NASA space program and used for the health benefits of astronauts the International and MIR space stations are integrated into another FAR Clinic modality, Pulsed Electro-Magnetic Field (PEMF) therapy.
