Cumulations Technologies

Cumulations Technologies is a mobile app development company in India with the vision of delivering high quality service to the world. The 3 engineering buddies Madhu, Praveen and Pradeep started Cumulations in way back 2012 with a product. Later they realize the gap between supply and demand chain of mobile apps development, they decided to offer mobile apps development services. They started their services as iOS apps development company and android apps development company.

The services offered by the company are:

1. Android apps development services
2. iOS Apps Development services
3. IoT Apps Development Services

The team is well versed with the recent technologies. "We do not hire an employee, we hire a member to our Cumulations Family instead, who are passionate about what they do. This will increase the productivity and the quality of deliverable", says Mr. Madhu, Co-Founder of Cumulations.

"When people say we are one of the best iOS apps development companies in India, means that we delivered a quality product to them and the business with us made them happy and comfortable. We always make our clients with hardwork, dedication & passion", says Praveen, Co-Founder of Cumulations.

"The way we walked so far was not struggle-less. we experimented, failed, learned and never forgot the lesson learned from failures. Which made us stand here today" Says Pradeep, Co-Founder of Cumulations.

In early 2014, they extended their services in the field of IoT, the current booming tech word in the industry. They have already developed more than 15 IoT mobile apps. They have been working with technologies such as WiFi, Bluetooth, iBeacon, Zigbee Wireless, NFC.
