

Von Miller, DWTS Partner Lindsay Arnold Get Wardrobe Assist from Wild Bill's Western Store

DWTS stars Von Miller and Lindsay Arnold prepped for country jive dance on switch-up week at Wild Bill's Western Store in Dallas.

DALLAS, TEXAS, USA, April 25, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Super Bowl 50 MVP Von Miller gets dancing tips from the best in the business in Los Angeles, starting with dance partner Whitney Carson, and with now switch-up week partner Lindsay Arnold, on ABC-TV's hit reality show, Dancing With the Stars.

For expert advice on western wear he only needs to take a short drive from his hometown of suburban Desoto, Texas, to Wild Bill's Western Store in downtown Dallas' Historic West End.

Miller and Arnold paid a visit to Wild Bill's to fine tune their Western groove as they prepared for their April 18 DWTS country jive dance to Beans & Fatback's 'Hips.' It was a first-time visit for Arnold, but store owner 'Wild Bill' Dewbre says Miller is a regular customer for boots, hats and other authentic Western wear.

"Von Miller has been a celebrity around Dallas since his days as one of the nation's top football players at DeSoto High School, and then onto Texas A&M and the Denver Broncos," store owner 'Wild Bill' Dewbre. "Now, on Dancing With the Stars the rest of the country has a chance to see what an outstanding young man he is. If he weren't such a special football player, he might have been a great rodeo cowboy."

Arnold and Miller each modeled several Western outfits during their visit, and even danced some, to the delight of other customers. Dewbre also presented the DWTS stars ranger badges and deputized them into his honorary posse.

Dewbre is no stranger to being consulted by the stars. He was a wardrobe consultant for the original and the revival series of the hit TV show "Dallas," and also for "Walker, Texas Ranger." He has made custom cowboy boots for some of Hollywood's biggest movie and TV stars, and for VIP groups from some of the world's leading companies. In addition, numerous TV and online shows have recorded segments at his store because of its authentic Western look and feel.
