“I absolutely love this running belt.” said a recent reviewer. “Although I have no doubt that this waist pack is perfect for people who run or exercise since it stays in place and secures your cell phone, I bought it because I needed a well-designed and water resistant waist belt for travel. With the Running Belt Max, I can comfortably carry all of my travel essentials and hide it under my shirt or jacket. After using it on my last trip, I can definitely say that this is now an essential gear item, like a pair of shoes. Highly recommend for other travelers or for those who need an exercise belt.”

As of late April 2016, the Running Belt Max has received over 200 positive reviews on Amazon. This has caused the product to quickly rise within the Amazon Bestseller Charts. It is currently ranked as one of the best-selling Waist Packs in the Exercise & Fitness category.
