/EINPresswire.com/ -- Casiii Inc., a growing tech business located in Hillside, NJ, has just launched a new and innovating line of Multilingual Hebrew language silicone keyboard covers for the MacBook. Surprising, only after a few days on the market, the product has already gained quite a bit of interest from online consumers.

durability of this product are top notch while maintaining affordability that matches similar products."

The Casiii Multilingual Hebrew English Silicone Keyboard Cover for Macbook has many benefits; the following are only a few. It protects dust and dirt from entering your computer through the keyboard. It helps protect from dangerous spills that can ruin your computer. Also, it protects your computers keyboard from natural wear-and-tear of the years, helping to maintain your computers overall value. Lastly and most importantly, the keyboard cover feels great to the touch with form-fitting soft (yet durable) ultrathin silicone that protects your keyboard but doesn't get in your way like other (low quality) keyboard covers might.

Those that have tried the product so far have only had raving reviews: "Excellent protection from dust, crumbs and drips from getting onto and under your keyboard" says #1 Hall of Fame Reviewer from Amazon.com. Additional top 1000 Reviewer says "Don't Use Your Keyboard without Protection, I don't think you can get much better than this. I love this thing. Thumbs (and keys) up, way up!"

Casiii is a growing computer accessories company that aims to offer its premium, high-quality products at a comparable price to other large similar companies. Casiii has already made an impact with their Eco-friendly, durable, and affordable line of keyboard covers.
