

Outdoor growing bans sweeping the country, SuperCloset steps in for easy transition to indoor growing

Outdoor growing is being banned or limited across the United States, even in states where cannabis is legal for medicinal or recreational purposes.

SANTA ROSA, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, May 2, 2016

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Outdoor Growing Bans Are Sweeping California, which states are next?

California, a pioneer in the medical marijuana industry, has put the law in the hands of the local communities to decide each county's fate on growing and distributing cannabis. On January 1, 2016, California voted to allow counties to vote on growing regulations by 3/1/2016 or be forced to follow how the state decides to regulate cultivation laws across the state.

Small Farmers and Local Growers need to be proactive with legal changes:

SuperCloset is a big proponent of small business including local growers and farmers providing sustainable, long-term solutions by staying small and servicing the community with personal grows. SuperCloset applauds California for keeping it local, but if banning outdoor growing can happen in California, it may be happening in other states very soon. Find out here each counties ban on outdoor growing and what the parameters are for legal indoor growing.

How SuperCloset can help outdoor growers make the transition to indoor growing:

For growers looking to make the transition from outdoor to indoor growing that have been effected by the new bans, contact SuperCloset today. JT, a SuperPro Grow Tech says, "We have been fielding a ton of phone calls from outdoor growers being effected by these bans and have been helping them make the transition to indoor growing smooth and efficient."
