ROCK REVIEW:

Guitarist Dizzy "Diz" Cortright of Nudeswirl

"His guitars scream mood swings on acid! Hypnotic Alice in Wonderland astral tripping interlace with deep, dark, temperamental insanity. With wiry cat screeching intensity, his fusion of electrical overtones and undercurrents cause sparks to fly off the fretboard like a prized mad scientist in an absinthe lab. He has an earthy, gentle spirit that peeps through at times to balance his heavy seasoning of tasty riffs. A bit of a gearfreak, this multi-faceted artist is well versed at finding just the right sound for his inner genius. His snakecharming presence rings excitement. As he captivates his audience, like a sinister bird of prey on the pounce, his sharp talons pierce deep. There's no escape. His ultimate fantasy of entertaining bewitchment is fulfilled. Hear his roar in the big machine."

Records. Hailed by some of their most noted influences, Perry Farrell, John Frusciante, and The Edge, they toured with White Zombie, Danzig, Flotsam and Jetsam, Mindfunk, and performed on the 1992

Lollapalooza side stage. Videos for "F Sharp" and "Buffalo" appeared on MTV's Headbangers Ball, 120 Minutes, and Beavis and Butt-head. Their combination of metal and grunge at the emergence of the height of the alternative movement, is something that wouldn't be approached again by anyone else for many years.
