IT Governance offers 20% off selected training courses to help organisations enhance internal IT GRC skills

ELY, CAMBRIDGESHIRE, UNITED KINGDOM, May 12, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IT Governance, the global provider of cyber security and IT governance expertise, is calling on organisations to improve their internal IT GRC (governance, risk management and compliance) skills with a special offer on its cyber security and IT GRC courses. The offer comes in the midst of the global surge in data breaches. IT Governance is urging companies to provide their IT teams with the necessary skills and expertise to tackle their IT risks.

Alan Calder, founder and executive chairman of IT Governance, says: "With cyber criminals becoming more sophisticated, combined with the emergence of new IT risks and challenges, it is crucial that organisations can draw on internal as well as external expertise to cope with the rising threats. Developing a professional staff training programme and supporting individuals in acquiring new skills and experience will be essential for countering a range of IT security risks."

With information security skills still in short supply, IT Governance's offer aims to help organisations tackle the shortage of IT GRC expertise by offering 20% off a selected number of training courses for new customer bookings made between 9 May 2016 and 23 June 2016.
