

GEMS Named Exclusive Provider of the TOEFL ITP® Test and TOEFL® Young Students Series in Iran

TEHRAN, IRAN, May 14, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Global Education Management Solutions (GEMS) has been named Iran's exclusive Country Master Distributor for ETS Global BV for the TOEFL ITP® test and TOEFL® Young Students Series. This agreement will provide students, businesses, schools and universities in Iran with expanded access to world-recognized tests of English for both academic and professional purposes.

The TOEFL ITP test provides higher education institutions with a tool to evaluate English-language proficiency at the intermediate or advanced level. The TOEFL ITP test is typically used for academic placement within higher education institutions.

The TOEFL® Young Students Series is designed specifically for the English-language learning needs of younger students. It consists of the TOEFL® Primary™ tests for ages 8+ and the TOEFL Junior® tests for ages 11+. The TOEFL Young Students Series provides an individual snapshot of a student's ability and provides descriptors with meaningful information including steps students can take to improve English-language skills and it is mapped to the Common European Framework of Languages for international benchmarking.

GEMS works with the world's leading academic and assessment organizations in offering first class training and exam solutions in a number of areas across the Middle East.

According to a spokesman of Gems: "This strategic collaboration, in line with the guidelines and values of the Islamic Republic of Iran, enables Iranians to obtain international language certification in all areas, better enhancing their academic and global job prospects. In this new era for Iran, GEMS stands alongside its other partners ready to support the continuous development and progression of this great historical nation."

"ETS Global BV is excited to support learners in Iran by making available a variety of products and services to training organizations and educational institutions and support their educational and employability goals," said Gerben van Lent, Executive Director Strategy and Business Growth of ETS Global BV.
