

FICO Undisputed All-Star MVP Contacts Obama White House and Recommends Executive Order: Terminate Mr. Trump's IRS Audit

SubscriberWise CEO and humanity's highest credit scoring consumer offers President Obama a practical suggestion to hasten the release of Trump's tax records.

AKRON, OH, U.S.A., May 17, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SubscriberWise founder and the only individual in Fair Isaac's 100 billion FICO scores to document simultaneous perfect 850 scores at Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion, David Howe, offers President Obama a practical suggestion to hasten the release of tax records belonging to presidential nominee Donald Trump.

"It's true," acknowledged Howe. "I did make a formal request to the White House asking the President to exercise his Constitutional Authority and issue a directive to the Internal Revenue Service. Specifically, I requested the President issue an Executive Order terminating the federal government's audit of Donald Trump, Republican Presidential nominee.

"The public consumption of Donald Trump's income tax returns remains a source of profound interest and perceived importance. Mr. Trump has indicated unequivocally that he would release the information after the process has concluded. President Obama's order would enable Mr. Trump's income tax transparency and expedite the process for the greater public good. It could well be Mr. Obama's single executive action where both political parties agree," concluded Howe.
