Just in time for warm weather, Anne

Martin of Little Boppers releases her limited edition summer line of cloth diapers designed to stand up to outdoor play.

HARKER HEIGHTS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, May 20, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As the growing trend of cloth diapering continues to add more options to the marketplace, discriminating parents are searching for exceptionally cute high-performance diapers.

The Play All Day Collection of modern cloth diapers inspires summer playtime for Baby that leaves Mom relaxed and worry-free. Featuring the highest quality materials including premium designer woven prints, the diapers in this collection are ideal for Baby playing outside in only a diaper. The new line, which officially launches May 23rd, is expected to sell out quickly.

"It's hot outside. You want to let your baby play in the grass or the sandbox wearing just a cloth diaper, but you don't want his diaper to get snagged and pilly, ruining your investment" said Martin. "The diapers in this collection solve that problem...they are made with durable woven prints that can withstand this kind of outdoor play and stay new looking much longer."

To keep Baby comfortable, these diapers also feature soft stretchy knit fabric at the waist, so she can twist and turn without feeling confined. And Mom will enjoy gushing over how adorable Baby looks! The special prints in this collection won't be found in any other brand of diapers.

Little Boppers are artisan-made modern cloth diapers that are so plush, stylish, and fun they turn diapering into a weird and wonderful obsession, for moms of babies. The Play All Day collection will be available at LittleBoppers.com from May 23rd until supplies run out.
