SOUTH ORANGE, NEW JERSEY, USA, May 21, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Deals4Meals.com, the Northeast's leading online ordering & delivery service for colleges towns, has announced that it will begin accepting Montclair State University's Red Hawk Dollars as payment online for all merchants beginning this summer. The move comes as part of what has been an eventful start to the year for the company, and just days after they opened their Seed Funding Round on May 18th.

Earlier this year, Deals4Meals partnered with Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, NJ and Pace University in New York supporting both their Lower Manhattan & Pleasantville, NY campus. Deals4Meals has supported Seton Hall University in South Orange, NJ since early 2013 and is now developing steady traction in the Northeast in the early stages of their expansion. The company offers partner campus & local communities a virtual food court and dedicated delivery service for restaurants and other merchants throughout the area where they can order for pick up or delivery while paying with their Student ID card just like on campus (credit/cash payments also accepted for students/locals).

They make delivery easy. I probably wouldn't do it without them.”

Vincenzo Loffredo, Owner - The Roman Gourmet

Deals4Meals' unique delivery service structure allows restaurants who are either too busy to fully manage their deliveries on their own, or don't deliver at all with the ability to deliver to the campus community and surrounding areas. "I don't know what I'd do without them," said Vincenzo Loffredo, owner of The Roman Gourmet Pizzeria in Maplewood NJ which has served the Seton Hall community with Deals4Meals since 2012. "At night it gets pretty crazy with all the fax orders so them having drivers for us takes care of that. They make delivery easy. I probably wouldn't do it without them."

Deals4Meals anticipates reaching 10-12 campuses by year end 2016, but their CEO was hesitant to project much further ahead than that. "As this year comes to an end, I'll have a pretty good idea of where we're at," said Kenneth Cucchia, CEO & Founder of Deals4Meals. "The schools we're pushing live in the coming months happen to be pretty conveniently located for us but next year we'll have decisions to make in terms of our direction. I'm definitely looking forward to the challenge."

Deals4Meals.com has been in business since November 2011, providing online ordering & turnkey delivery solutions to restaurants and improving the quality of food & life on college campuses around the country.
