About the Public Relation Robots Market

Robotics, which was a traditional part of the industry sector, is making its mark in the service sector, such as in hotels, hospitals, warehouses, restaurants, and departmental stores. Recent developments in AI technologies, assistive technologies, and machine learning algorithms have helped vendors to design public relation robots. Public relation robots are used as a replacement for handling customers in sectors, such as hotel and restaurant, mobile guidance, information areas, and marketing.

Technavio's analysts forecast the global public relation robots market to grow at a CAGR of 26% during the period 2016-2020.
