PUNE, INDIA, May 27, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/
-- About the Pickles Market

Pickles serve as taste enhancers and are usually consumed with meals. In certain cuisines, such as sushi, they are used to refresh the palate between courses. They are also used as toppings for foods such as sandwiches, hamburgers, and hotdogs. Certain pickle varieties such as garlic, ginger, and olive are known for their health benefits. In addition, consumers also increasingly prefer pickles with lower salt content and non-GMO and organic ingredients. Del Monte is one of the leading providers of non-GMO and organic pickle products.

Cucumber pickles are the most popular variety globally, followed by olive pickles. It is expected that the demand for fermented pickles is likely to decline and that for refrigerated pickles, which undergo less processing, will likely increase during the forecast period.

The analysts forecast the global packaged food market to grow at a CAGR of 4.17% during the period 2016-2020.
