/EINPresswire.com/ -- KITCHENER, ONTARIO — Author Charles David is set to meet with a professional screenwriter to discuss the prospect of seeing his fictional novel, “A Spy in Hell.” adapted to film.

David is excited about his new film venture and shares his vision for the adaptation, stating, “Due to its symbolism and vibrantly detailed imagery depiction of the characters—especially in hell and heaven, this novel will best be expressed in a motion picture to convey the best outcome.”

“Captures the spiritual struggles all Christians and non-Christians battle with.”

Taylor Michaud, Acquisitions Editor, Tate Publishing

“A Spy in Hell” is a thrilling and magnetic story about a Canadian spy who meets a nearly fatal assassination attempt and is taken deep into Hell where he escapes. Kirl Fonder discovers that he is married to two women from the same parents and must decide between the two. His conversion to Christianity is certain, but his spiritual fate is set.

“I began writing this book in 2012. Reading in the Bible, I realized that there were some gaps in explaining what really happens when a person dies. Do they all just go to heaven as is promulgated in the culture today? This novel offers a clear picture of what happens to the soul of a person when they leave the body or die,” shares David.

Taylor Michaud, Acquisitions Editor for Tate Publishing, believes that the plot of the story makes people appreciate the spiritual dimension of a person. “It captures the spiritual struggles all Christians and non-Christians battle with, the question of what happens when a person dies,” Michaud states.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book is available through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Charles is a prolific author of a dozen other books in various genres who has written over a thousand poems. He teaches law and heads the legal department at a college in Canada and has illustrated great legal and other themes through stories.

Charles is a community leader and has been the longest serving president of the Zambian-Canadian Foundation. He is the founder and president of World Influence Inc., a Christian leadership and prayer organization and writes an online column on current affairs, development and leadership. And Charles is an avid writer and about 20 unfinished manuscripts are in the offing. When not writing, Charles loves spending time with his family where he draws tremendous satisfaction and joy.
