

Californian author shares values, women spiritual gifts in religious book

Author Yolanda D. Dawson shares encouragement and change in her Christian book, "Chosen by God."

INGLEWOOD, CALIF., UNITED STATES, May 31, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- INGLEWOOD, Calif. – Author Yolanda D. Dawson encourages readers as she writes a story of encouragement and change in her Christian life book, "Chosen by God: Overlooked by Man – Women of Faith Moving in the Supernatural Gifts of God."

A story of faith, destiny and potential, "Chosen by God: Overlooked by Man" is a religious book to encourage women of faith, recognize spiritual gifts and use them to make an impact that will bring permanent change to individuals and communities around them.

"My inspiration for writing the book came from a prophetic word that was spoken over my life – 'I see you writing a book for women.' From that word, I began writing from my personal experiences and I realized that I had been overlooked. I wanted to bring light to the overlooked and underused spiritual gifts of women in the church," shares Dawson when asked about the inspiration behind her book.

"Women are able to discover and develop a healthy self-concept."

Meg Ormiston, Acquisitions Editor, Tate Publishing.

"Dawson assures women that God knows their name, destiny, potential, ordained office and gifts. Through this book, women will also discover their spiritual office and supernatural gifts, and develop a healthy self-concept," states Meg Ormiston, Acquisitions Editor for Tate Publishing.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book is available upon its release, through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Dawson has worked in higher education for leading, directing, counseling and advising college and middle school students for over 15 years. She considers herself as a professional educator and holds a doctorate in organizational leadership from Pepperdine University. Aside from her background in education, Dawson is also the prophetess and founder of Pearls of Wisdom Life Coach Consulting in California.
