

Boston Moving Company Donates Heavy Lifting to Special Olympics Massachusetts Summer Games

As the official logistics sponsor, Olympia Moving & Storage works to make the state's biggest competition for intellectually disabled athletes a success.

WATERTOWN, MA, USA, June 3, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On Friday, the athletes of Special Olympics Massachusetts will be greeted by the professional movers of Olympia Moving & Storage, a leading Boston moving company, as they arrive at one of their most anticipated events of the year: Summer Games. The Olympia Movers cheer the teams as they pull in before unloading the buses and moving them into their dorms for the weekend, bellhop style.

The move-in to Summer Games is just one part of Olympia Moving & Storage's role as the official logistics sponsor of the event. This is the Boston moving company's fourth year donating services to the competition for athletes with intellectual disabilities. Special Olympics Massachusetts Summer Games takes place June 3 - 5 at the Harvard University Athletic Complex and Boston University. Over 2,000 athletes with intellectual disabilities across Massachusetts will come to Boston to compete in sports including track & field and aquatics. The event strives to promote the athletes' abilities instead of focusing on disabilities and encourages their health.

"Our movers look forward to greeting the athletes at Summer Games each year," says Michael Gilmartin, President of Olympia Moving & Storage. "During our past four years of sponsorship with Special Olympics Massachusetts, we've found that the athletes' determination and positive attitudes inspire our team."

"Special Olympics Massachusetts is grateful to the great staff of Olympia who volunteer their time to give our athletes a great weekend every June and for all they do year round to support our program," says Matt Ruxton, Vice President of Sports at Special Olympics Massachusetts. "Their great staff is willing and ready to do anything to make our events go as easy and smooth as possible."

In addition to athlete move-in, Olympia Moving & Storage provides equipment transportation, move-out, and break-down assistance to Summer Games. The donation is part of the company's year-round sponsorship of Special Olympics Massachusetts. Last year the Boston moving company donated over $50,000 in monetary and logistics donations to the organization.
