As an effective and environmental friendly herbicide, clethodim plays a more and more important role at home and abroad in recent few years. Nowadays, clethodim is exported to more than 40 countries.

In addition, clethodim will gradually apply in other various kinds of dicotyledon crop besides soybean. Currently, clethodim is mainly used in soybean field. In this report, you can also see other competing products and their comparison.

Although China's clethodim developed rapidly in recent years, it still faces some problems, such as the single variety of formulation, weak brand influence, the threat from transgenic crops and so on. In this report, more specific information is provided.
