

Computerworld Names Intermountain Healthcare to 2016 List of 100 Best Places to Work in IT

Seventh time since 2008 that Intermountain has been included on list

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, USA, June 14, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IDG's Computerworld has named Utah's Intermountain Healthcare as a 2016 Best Places to Work in IT, one of 100 top organizations that challenge their IT staffs while providing great benefits and compensation. Organizations from around the country representing a diverse range of industries were among those honored by Computerworld.

Marc Probst, vice president and chief information officer at Intermountain, says: "To be on Computerworld's list of best places to work highlights the effectiveness and adaptability of our people. Even in the face of many changes, this award reflects very positively on our cooperative working environment, creating a workplace where people want to be and want to excel. I appreciate our terrific team and I.S. leaders for creating such an exceptional workplace and am honored to be a part of this team."

Intermountain Healthcare, based in Salt Lake City, has been transforming healthcare through technology for over 40 years. This is the seventh time since 2008 that Intermountain has been included on this list. Technology teams work closely with clinicians to assess the value and effectiveness of new technologies, while innovating side-by-side on new tools and processes. Intermountain consists of 22 hospitals, over 185 clinics, and 1300 employed physicians helping people live the healthiest lives possible.®

"The organizations on this year's Best Places to Work in IT list excel at creating a dynamic and satisfying IT work environment," says Scot Finnie, editor in chief of Computerworld. "In a competitive market for tech talent, these outstanding employers are able to attract highly skilled IT pros by offering great benefits, new learning opportunities, access to cutting-edge technologies and challenging, business-critical projects."

About the Best Places to Work in IT

The Best Places to Work in IT list is an annual ranking of the top 100 work environments for technology professionals by IDG's Computerworld. The list is compiled based on a comprehensive questionnaire regarding company offerings in categories such as benefits, career development, training and retention. In addition, Computerworld conducts extensive surveys of IT workers, and their responses factor heavily in determining the rankings.
