HYDERABAD, TELANGANA, INDIA, June 17, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- If you ever spend hours of time finding packers and movers in your house shifting and still landed into troubles. Migrera wants to save you time, money and the trouble next time.

A Hyderabad based startup built an online platform which claims not only the easiest way to compare and book reliable packers and movers. Also, they believe their technology and process gonna simplify the complete shifting experience by bringing transparency and trust.

Here's how it works:

Instead of heading out to Google to search for "house shifting" and trying to identify which one to choose. Or just filling out the forms in JustDail, or Sulekha asking many vendors to call you.

To the contrary, visit migrera.com - entirely an online booking engine, which helps to get customized quotes from trusted vendors and makes the whole booking and shifting process much simpler.

The user has to fill out a form and choose items like RedBus or MakeMyTrip. So this shouldn't be any extra work (hardly 5 minutes).

Migrera has built a smart system from the ground up to bring the best and accurate quotes from the reliable vendors within 30 mins (working hours) for free. And seamlessly allow the customer to compare and book a vendor through a dashboard.

All orders have been engineered specifically for better user experience. Taking into account the various factors to be precise 15 and delivers the best 3 to 4 vendors to choose from.

Migrera claims that it had profiled 150 packers and movers in Hyderabad physically out of 400+. And could only discover 9 of them practice business with standards, and hooked up 6 out of 9.

Also, Migrera understands the importance of a superior customer support . You may just have a question about a packing standards, payments related queries, or may wonder whether or not you need an insurance.

For that, Migrera has 24-hour support services in the form of chat, phone or email for guiding the customers to take better decisions and resolve queries.

Migrera is founded by childhood friends(IITians), who started the company after their own horrible house shifting experiences while switching their jobs. This brought friends Kranthi, Pradeep, Sandeep and Abhishek together as a team, and Migrera was born.

"Enigma in the moving industry persist even in the era technology changing every other industry and even expensive brands don't adopt it, say one of the co-founders Kranthi Kumar"

Migrera claims their prices are 30 to 40% cheaper sometimes even 50% cheaper than the conventional packers and movers with the quality assured. They say with the technology we require 1/4 of the people than traditional companies to support. And we are weeding out unwanted challans, process and passing that benefits directly to the customers.

"It's also worth noting each booking comes with a price guarantee and on-time arrival guarantee and dedicated Move Marshall support. We are the only platform in India to offer such high service standards." quoted by Pradeep co-founder.
