The Global Canola Oil Industry 2016 Market Research Report is a professional and in-depth study on the current state of the Canola Oil industry. In the past five years, global canola oil production varied from about 24000 K MT in 2011 to 27700 K MT in 2015. Production of canola oil is fluctuated by that of rapeseed. Since raw material is abundant and technology is mature, there will be more and more producers in the future.

Firstly, the report provides a basic overview of the industry including definitions, classifications, applications and industry chain structure. The Canola Oil market analysis is provided for the international market including development history, competitive landscape analysis, and major regions' development status.

Secondly, development policies and plans are discussed as well as manufacturing processes and cost structures. This report also states import/export, supply and consumption figures as well as cost, price, revenue and gross margin by regions (United States, EU, China and Canada), and other regions can be added.

Then, the report focuses on global major leading industry players with information such as company profiles, product picture and specification, capacity, production, price, cost, revenue and contact information. Upstream raw materials, equipment and downstream consumers analysis is also carried out. What's more, the Canola Oil industry development trends and marketing channels are analyzed. Finally, the feasibility of new investment projects is assessed, and overall research conclusions are offered.

In a word, the report provides major statistics on the state of the industry and is a valuable source of guidance and direction for companies and individuals interested in the market.
