Residency Bond Program Ltd welcomes the new immigration law passed by the Hungarian parliament. Although Hungarian Residency Bond program has been the most popular in Europe, the new regulation makes it even more attractive. Even though the old procedure was the easiest and fastest one in Europe, the new rule simplifies and speeds up the process and involves dependent family members in the program as well.

According to the new law, clients obtain a permanent residence permit in one step and the processing time is reduced to 30 days. The essential acceleration of the process will be in force from the 1st July. The previous procedure consisted of two phases: after receiving temporary residence permit, applicants had to wait six months before they could apply for permanent residence permit. The processing time was 70 days. The total time of obtaining permanent residence permit is now reduced from 8 months to 1-2 months. The Hungarian program is indeed the fastest track to Europe.
