

VSE Aviation Announces Extended Agreement Between Air Parts & Supply Company and Honeywell Aerospace

VSE Aviation, Inc. announces Honeywell Aerospace has extended their Agreement with Air Parts and Supply Company (known as APSCO, a VSE Aviation subsidiary).

DALLAS, TEXAS, USA, June 29, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Long-time partners, Honeywell Aerospace Inc. and Air Parts and Supply Company (known as APSCO, a VSE Aviation, Inc. subsidiary) recently agreed to extend their agreement, for another five years, to distribute Fuel Control and Governor material to the small turbine accessory market. Through this partnership, Honeywell and APSCO work with Honeywell Authorized Warranty & Repair Stations (AWARS) to provide quality products to the helicopter and fixed-wing markets.

Honeywell, APSCO and VSE Aviation

APSCO has a rich history of delivering world class customer service to the aftermarket and provides value through kitting and supply chain services. The company provides 24/7 AOG services and works hard at forecasting customers' needs to have the right parts in inventory.

Honeywell has been producing mechanical fuel control equipment for more than 75 years, with installations on most commercial and military turbine-powered helicopters. Honeywell fuel controls have flown more than 1 billion hours.

Honeywell mechanical fuel controls are installed on the Pratt & Whitney Canada (PWC) PT6A – Series (Turboprop), PW100 - Series (Turboprop), PT6T- Series (Turboshaft), JT15D - Series (Turbofan) engines, the Rolls-Royce (formerly Allison) M250 - Series (Turboshaft & Turboprop), T-56 - Series (Turboprop), RR300 (Turboshaft), and Honeywell's LTS101 engine.

Air Parts and Supply Company (APSCO) is a factory-authorized distributor located in Miami, FL and has partnered with Honeywell for more than 30 years.
