

EXODUS AVIATION CHOOSES PENTAGON 2000 SQL AS ITS ERP AND CRM PARTNER

Exodus Aviation leverages Pentagon 2000 SQL software to expand its aftermarket operations.

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA, USA, July 1, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Exodus Aviation specializes in mid-life to end of life aviation assets Primarily Airbus and Boeing Aircraft. Exodus Aviation provides solutions for aircraft and engine trading and leasing, spare parts sales and inventory management, and commercial aircraft disassembly and recycling.

Exodus Aviation leverages Pentagon 2000 SQL software to expand its aftermarket operations. Exodus partners with Pentagon 2000 SQL ERP to allow for expansion and its integrated capabilities designed specifically for the aviation industry.

The complexity of managing engine and aircraft component services at Exodus Aviation comprises background processes for sourcing, teardown, cost, logistics, sales, support and detailed regulatory data management for global engine and airframe parts distribution services. To streamline operations and processes, Exodus wanted to move from using disparate systems for logistics,ERP,CRM, and accounting into a modern solution that would integrate business processes across their business in order to become more efficient and responsive to their customer needs.

Designed specifically for aviation services, Exodus selects Pentagon 2000SQL software to meet its ERP, CRM, and accounting needs and allow for expansion to encompass more integrated capabilities. With the Pentagon ERP and quality control modules requirements are incorporated into simplified processes to better manage customer accounts, sales and inventory.
