

TraceGains Publishes eBook: “How to Have a Strong Supplier Approval Program”

WESTMINSTER, COLORADO, UNITED STATES, July 13, 2016

/EINPresswire.com/ -- TraceGains, the leading Food Safety and Quality Assurance (FSQA) software solution for food and consumer packaged goods (CPG) companies, has published its latest eBook to help the food supply chain implement a strong supplier approval program to meet stringent standards such as those prescribed by the Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) and the Global Food Safety Institute (GFSI).

“FSMA and GFSI have really raised the bar on what’s acceptable when it comes to managing supplier risk,” said Gary Nowacki, CEO of TraceGains. “Having a properly managed supplier approval program can help ensure quality and safety standards are met, and also helps improve working relationships between suppliers and customers.”

TraceGains regularly publishes how-to manuals, regulatory checklists, and other resources as a service to the food and CPG companies it serves. The latest publication in TraceGains resource library is “How to Have a Strong Supplier Approval Program,” which can be downloaded for free at <https://www.tracegains.com/have-a-strong-supplier-approval-program-ebook>.

How to Have a Strong Supplier Approval Program eBook

With the FSVP, the FDA for the first time stated a preference for electronic records. I foresee a growing demand for food safety software solutions like for food safety software solutions like TraceGains to satisfy these requirements.”

According to regulatory attorney, Marc Sanchez of FDAatty.com, “One key component to having an outstanding supplier program is having a well-built and well-maintained supplier approval process, especially since FSMA gives such emphasis to supplier verification.” Sanchez continued, “With the Foreign Supplier Verification Program (FSVP), the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the first time stated a preference for electronic records. I foresee growing demand Specifically, the eBook covers: 1) why having a strong supplier approval process is necessary; 2) the elements that make up a strong supplier approval program; 3) how to have one source for all supplier information, and; 4) how to better monitor and scorecard suppliers' performance.
