

“PASSING THE BIGFOOT BATON”

The Real Bigfoot Hunter Tom Biscardi is making history with his retirement expedition.

REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, July 5, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Godfather of Bigfoot, Tom Biscardi, is taking his team on a high tech research expedition which will start in Arizona in July and will span the contiguous United States. The A team will be visiting -Washington, Montana, Arizona, Oklahoma, Mississippi, New Hampshire, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Alabama, Rhode Island, Utah, and Maine. All reports have been reviewed and verified for each of the stops along the way. Due to the unusual weather patterns the number of eye witness reports has escalated. Expedition members include a former Army Ranger, a retired Navy SEAL, a retired Chief Fraud Investigator and thermal imaging expert, and an ex-Marine sniper The goal is to prove to the public the creature does exist. A film crew will be recording their attempts over the weeks and months to come. Please contact tombiscardi@gmail.com or 415-518-8494 for any inquiries regarding scheduling.

Bigfoot exploded into the eye of the public when the famous Patterson-Gimlin Bluff Creek film of 1967 supposedly caught a minute of the creature walking through the woods. Believed by many to be legitimate, it has been the subject of controversy for over 49 years. New evidence developed by the members of Bigfoot Projects Investments, Inc. strongly indicates that sadly, the film is a hoax, and the team is actively continuing its work to present an iron clad case to the public. Readers will remember Tom's film "The Hoax of the Century" which argued very persuasively to that effect. Tom Biscardi is an award winning film producer for the movies Bigfoot Lives, Bigfoot Lives 2 and Anatomy of a Bigfoot Hoax.

The team will also be honored with the inclusion of the findings of the team for the state of Kentucky in the Bell County Historical Society Museum. The museum is located in Middlesboro Kentucky and will be exhibiting items of interest found in the state, including casts, photos and other discoveries.

The parent company Bigfoot Project Investments, Inc. has now cleared the last hurdle and is over the counter. Upon approval from FINRA the company was awarded the ticker symbol “BGFT”. Completing this process has been a lifetime goal and with the fantastic ticker awarded, Tom Biscardi will be moving forward on the projects that will continue to place the company in the forefront of Bigfoot research organizations.

This new business venture signals a moment in Bigfoot history; at the completion of the expedition Tom will pass the baton to his son "TJ" a former Army Ranger who will lead all future expeditions. The requirements of managing the new company and development of new projects preclude Tom from engaging in the extensive travel and research requirements required for each expedition and he will be focusing all his energies on the new company. In addition to the research expeditions and the resulting TV special, are a number of new projects that include a museum and restaurant in old town Sacramento and the Bigfoot 3D movies. The Movies will be jointly produced with Brian Rogers the award winning producer of Godzilla 3D. High profile actors and actresses have already expressed interest in starring in the Bigfoot 3D movie.

The company is conducting extensive research into the use of Virtual Reality for incorporation into the development of a new Bigfoot wilderness hunting game, which "promises to raise the hair on the back of your head"
