

Defence Exports: Update on U.S. Export Control Reform, Cyber Security, Electronic Data Transfer and IT Services

SMI Reports: Export control experts will meet in Amsterdam in September to discuss latest global arms control updates from Government and Industry.

AMSTERDAM, NETHERLANDS, July 11, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BIS and State Department Issue Rules on Key Export Control Definitions and Cloud Computing (*Source) The new rules, part of the Administration's Export Control Reform Initiative, seek to enhance clarity, promote consistency of terms across the two export control regimes, and update the EAR's treatment of electronically transmitted and stored technology and software.

Following on from this, the diverse international line up of senior arms export control expert speakers for this highly anticipated event will provide fundamental information on U.S. Export Control Reform and how export control violations can be avoided when using IT services to transfer electronic data.

Key sessions that are not to be missed include:

-Day One Keynote Address: How U.S. Export Control Reform and Re-Export Considerations Will Impact Defence Trade

Speaker: Kevin J. Wolf, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Export Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce

-Day One Presentation: Corporate Empowered Officials and Cyber Technology - Understanding where trade compliance and cyber technology intersect inside a corporation

Speakers: Vince Jarvie, Vice President of Security, L-3 Communications Corporation

-Day Two Panel Discussion: How To Avoid Export Control Violations With Electronic Data And IT
