

TraceGains Named a Global Leader in Cloud Collaboration

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, July 20, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Business Intelligence Group today announced that it has awarded TraceGains, Inc. a 2016 Stratus Award in its annual contest. The organization sought to identify the companies, products, and people that are offering unique solutions that take advantage of cloud technologies.

“Congratulations to the entire TraceGains team for helping accelerate adoption of innovative cloud-based solutions for the food industry,” said Russ Fordyce, Managing Director of the Business Intelligence Group.

TraceGains, the leading Food Safety and Quality Assurance (FSQA) software solution for food and consumer packaged goods (CPG) companies, is honored to receive the “Cloud Collaboration Award” for its leadership in driving collaboration in the food industry. TraceGains helps food safety, quality assurance, regulatory, R&D, and sourcing/procurement departments perform more work in less time, and empowers cross-departmental teams to improve collaboration by breaking down data silos. In addition, TraceGains technology also improves external collaboration between suppliers and their customers by streamlining and automating the flow of information between the two parties.

“I am so proud of our employees and partners for their dedication and hard work,” said TraceGains CEO Gary Nowacki. He continued, “TraceGains is transforming food safety and quality management as we know it and our technology will continue to lead the industry in the right direction.”
