"I can't tell you how many times I've looked in my golf bag the night before a round or on the first tee only to realize I don't have ANY or enough golf balls to use for my round," said Jared Kahn, GBC Inc. CMO. "Even worse is what follows; making annoying emergency trips to local golf retailers, or paying for over-priced golf balls in the golf course clubhouse. I knew there had to be another way!"

Every golfer knows 'that' guy. The guy who borrows a bunch of golf balls from the players around him. Or spends what feels like hours searching bushes and water hazards only to find a mud stained, half chewed driving range ball.

Just in time for the holiday season, The Golf Ball Club can help you or anyone you know avoid being 'that' guy by delivering brand new high quality golf balls directly to your door. You have the choice of premium or super premium golf balls, as well as the number of sleeves you would like to receive each month. It's simple, quick, and ultra-convenient.

By becoming a member of The Golf Ball Club you never have to worry about refilling on your favorite golf ball ever again, and if you're the kind of person who likes variety you can also try out their curated golf balls to see what's popular on tour, and what works well for your game.
