Ndeye Labadens Takes Readers on a Journey through Australia in New Book

LONDON, ENGLAND — June 2016 — Author, entrepreneur, consultant, and world traveler, Ndeye Labadens invites readers to come take a journey through Australia. From arrival to departure, the experiences provided within the pages of Labadens' new book entitled, "Australian Memories: Discover Aussie Land and the Mysterious Red Center," are rich and full of the beauty and excitement that surrounded the trip.

The daughter of a doctor, Ndeye and her family relocated often while she was growing up, due to her father's occupation. Thanks to this, it became very easy for her to adapt to new environments. Her month-long trek through Australia was filled with many surprises.

In her new book, Ndeye takes her readers on a fascinating tour of the most famous attractions, off-the-beaten-path eateries, natural wonders such as the Red Center, and the people she meets along the way. Ndeye commented about her experience, "A month long stay in the continent-country of Australia was breath-taking, informative, fun and relaxing, busy but worthwhile visiting. Australia was rewarding: a genuine dream-come-true."

Ndeye currently resides in London, England. Fluent in both French and English, she has used her love of travel and exploration to channel her energy into seeing the world and learning about new cultures and meeting new people. She recently completed her MBA in Entrepreneurship, and previously studied Entrepreneurship at Suffolk University. Ndeye is now a Consultant with LANN

Consulting, and has recently begun a DBA program to receive her Doctorate in Business Administration with a specialization in Entrepreneurship at Walden University in Minnesota. She also is working on her second book entitled, Relocation without Dislocation: Make New Friends and Keep the Old.
