

Webcentric Marketing and Public Relations for the Common Good

CueOps, LLC provides web solutions and development for all those who seek to make the world a better place through social and economic justice.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, UNITED STATES, July 18, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Social and economic justice is hard to come by and too easily taken away. Many of the non-profits, state and local politicians, activists, organizations and individuals working for these rights lack the resources to get consistently and persistently to get their messages out. More specifically, they typically lack the technology or the know how to make this happen. A message that is not heard or seen is like the proverbial tree falling in the forest.

CueOps, LLC, an Albuquerque based webcentric marketing and public relations firm has formally launched operations to provide the technological tools to make sure the trees do not fall silent. CueOps mission and its focus is on social and economic justice in all its forms: civil rights, human rights, voting women's rights, minority rights, criminal justice reform, drug policy reform, environmental health, homelessness, poverty, voting rights and whatever other from social and economic injustice take on.

The team at CueOps have all been involved in these issues at one time or another. They understand the injustices and they fight and help others fight against them. Prior to the formal launch, the team had been working together on these tasks. The team achieved some very significant successes even prior to the formal launch which coincided by necessity with a fundraiser the team had put together for a military and veteran justice client. CueOps is now doing it on a wider scale providing the tools created and implemented for the early efforts to other non-profits, organizations and individuals fighting for social and economic justice.

CueOps is proud to be taking on this project and for the social good the company expects to see through our client successes. CueOps philosophy and mantra is based upon rising tide theory of social good. The greater the volume, intensity and amplification of all those working toward social and economic justice, the greater will be the pace of progress and the less likely will be the possibility of obstruction or reversal of the achievements already made.

CueOps is open for business. Calls and online inquiries are welcomed and encouraged. CueOps can and will provide the tools to get your message heard above the noise and static of what has become polluted with corporatist driven messaging geared toward reversal of a century of social and economic justice progress.
