

Tate author crafts gripping third installment to fiction fantasy novel

Author Kenneth Kappelmann crafts another page turning adventure in his third and final installment of his book series, "The Death of the Dragon."

LAKEVILLE, MINN., UNITED STATES, July 23, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- LAKEVILLE, Minn. – Author Kenneth Kappelmann crafts another page-turning adventure in his third and final installment of his book series, "The Death of the Dragon: Hidden Magic, Volume III."

"The Death of the Dragon" is the final book in Kappelmann's Hidden Magic Series. It brings all the open issues to closure with a variety of surprises and unexpected twists. This final book takes place twenty years after book 2 in the series, the Dragon Unknown, ended and has the same main group of companions again facing the evil of the past, the evil they believed they had already destroyed, when in fact, that evil had only positioned its entire attack on this one final thrust to rule the land.

"The story brings everything together in what turned into a multiple book series that has created a high level of excitement and positive remarks from book aficionados."

Andrea Weig, Acquisitions Editor, Tate Publishing

"The first two books in the series, 'The Dragon Unknown' and 'The Return of the Dragons' were written in 1991 and 1992. Due to their success, the final book was written this year. The inspiration is simply loved for fantasy. If a writer enjoys reading a genre, it is most likely they will enjoy writing it. Combine that with the positive feedback, the drive of fans to have the final book, the inspiration came naturally," Kappelmann shares, when asked about the inspiration behind his three compelling novels.

"The story brings everything together in what turned into a multiple book series that has created a high level of excitement and positive remarks from book aficionados," states Andrea Weig, Acquisitions Editor for Tate Publishing.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book will be available upon its release through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Kappelman grew up in Kansas but has lived in Oregon, Switzerland, Chicago, Seattle, San Jose, and now in Minnesota. He and his wife have three kids, twins in high school and a soon to be third grader.

He enjoys anything outdoors, such as bike riding, basketball, baseball, and if he could find a place on a lake to go write, he would do it in a minute.

The Death of the Dragon, Hidden Magic Volume 3, will be released in late 2016 or early 2017.
