

Pennsylvanian author inks suspense, faith and redemption tale

Author John J. Zelenski partnered with Tate Publishing to kick-start the publication process of his thrilling fictional novel, "The Journal of Ezekiel Walker."

SCRANTON, PA., UNITED STATES, July 23, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SCRANTON, Pa. – Author John J. Zelenski recently partnered with Tate Publishing to kick-start the publication process of his thrilling fictional novel, "The Journal of Ezekiel Walker."

A tale of acceptance, faith, and rightfulness, "The Journal of Ezekiel Walker" is the prequel of "Walker's Vale" and an adventure-packed, fictional novel about a man, running from his mistakes, from God and ultimately running from himself.

"My novel, Walker's Vale was in part inspired by my own true-life events I encountered as a child, having moved to our new home where strange events began to unfold almost immediately. I suppose it would be safe to say that Walker's Vale has been in the making since I was a child," shares Zelenski on the inspiration behind the book.

“Readers have been responded extremely favorable thus far. A woman decided to rededicate her life to following God's path after she read the book.”

“Readers have been responded extremely favorable thus far. A woman decided to rededicate her life to following God's path after she read the book,” states Charles Callaway, Acquisitions Editor for Tate Publishing.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book is available through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Zelenski was inspired to begin writing supernatural or paranormal thrillers after his own personal experiences as a youth. He has appeared on television and radio, and received high-profile reviews and endorsements while sharing his story. He and his wife, Jill, and two children enjoy watching the season change in beautiful Northeastern Pennsylvania.
