Funtomic announces a partnership with veteran indie developers Flazm to launch the first official mobile Bob the Robber under its flagship brand Kizi.

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL, July 26, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Popular franchise Bob the Robber has enjoyed over 50 million plays across its desktop versions and encouraged dozens on clones on mobile stores. The official release, polished and optimized after one year in the making, is a fun stealth platformer with intuitive controls accessible to all ages.

After being called “criminally entertaining” and a “time stealer” by popular blog JayIsGames, this time Bob comes back for one final mission to save the world as the ultimate good guy rogue. Players will make their way through 10 challenging levels, avoiding and out-smarting 5 types of enemies with different behaviors.
