Market Synopsis of Electronic Adhesives Market

Electronic adhesives market has seen a positive growth across the globe. Geographically, Asia-Pacific is estimated to be the largest market for electronic adhesives in 2016, owing to high economic growth rate, rising electronic adhesives based application patents and cheap labor. Surface mount devices are estimated to be the leading application in the global market and accounted for more than 40% of the total market demand owing to substantial development in chip bonding. Apart from this, the shifting trends towards the miniaturisation of electronic gadgets have increased the demand for electronic adhesives over the past few years. Furthermore, growing demand for consumer electronics and technological advancements are the major driving factors for the growth in the global electronic adhesives market. On the other hand, the higher installation and production cost are the primary restraints hampering the growth in the global electronic adhesives market.

Segmentation

The global electronic adhesives markets are segmented into types and applications. On the basis of type, the global market is segmented into thermally conductive, electrically conductive, and ultraviolet-curing and others. On the basis of application, the global market is segmented into conformal coatings, surface mount devices, potting and encapsulation and others.
