

ITpreneurs Expands ITIL® Practitioner Portfolio with eLearning

Training organizations can now offer more options to learners who want to achieve the ITIL Practitioner qualifications

ROTTERDAM, THE NETHERLANDS, August 4, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Following the release of the ITIL® Practitioner classroom courseware, we have developed the ITIL Practitioner eLearning courseware. Training organizations looking to offer more learning opportunities for their learners will find this a valuable portfolio to be included in their offerings. “The course has been designed for your learners to be totally immersed in the case study rather than reviewing it from an outside perspective. The videos and voice overs talk to you as if you are in direct conversation with the trainer, engaging learners with the knowledge required. A variety of quizzes is spread throughout the modules integrating with the content. There is an online mock exam as well. Your learners will find themselves embarking on a journey having to apply the concepts of ITIL Practitioner and practice the techniques,” says Simone Jo Moore, author ITpreneurs ITIL Practitioner eLearning courseware.

“We recognize the value of participants to take part in classroom training to achieve the Practitioner Certification. However, given the busy lifestyle of today’s learners, there are situations where attending a class is not possible and self-study is preferred. Passing the exam could be challenging if one choose only to read the Guidance Publication. Our eLearning courseware brings the topics to life in the case studies and requires deeper levels of thinking by the learners,” says Arjan Woertman, VP R&D ITpreneurs.

The ITIL Practitioner level certification has been introduced by AXELOS to help organizations and individuals increase the value they obtain from adopting and adapting ITIL. It’s the next step after ITIL Foundation for professionals who have already learned the basics of IT Service Management (ITSM) and the business value of well-designed and delivered services.
